

The Gresham Competition - Oracy Competition

Gresham College Privacy Statement: How we use your personal information

Gresham College takes its duty to process your personal data very seriously. This policy explains how we collect, manage, use and protect your personal data. Our full policy, updated to reflect the implementation of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) in May 2018, can be found here.

Who are we? Gresham College is a registered charity in England and Wales (Charity no. 1039962) and a limited company (Company no. 2953431). Gresham College's registered address is Barnard's Inn Hall, Holborn, London, EC1N 2HH.

What personal data do we collect? To enter this competition, you must provide us with some personal details including: your name, age, school email address, school, and the name and email address of your teacher. We will be very clear with you if we wish to collect further information, such as date of birth, and include our reason for collecting such information.

Why do we need your personal data? Gresham College only collects data for specific activities. For this competition we will use your data to assess your eligibility and administer the competition. Some of your personal data, will be used to publicise the winning entries. Entries which do not provide this information cannot be accepted. What do we do with your personal data? We will share your entry and some personal data with the Financial Times and our competition judges. These judges are selected by Gresham College and The Financial Times. They require this data in order to review your entry. If we need to share your entries beyond these groups of people, we will anonymise your entry. We hold your information only as long as necessary for the purpose of completing the activity for which it was collated.

If you decide not to support Gresham College any more or request that we have no further contact with you, we will keep some basic information in order to avoid sending you unwanted materials in the future and to ensure that we don't accidentally duplicate information. All individuals have the right to access personal information that is held about them. You can request a copy of any information that we hold about you.

Please contact us if you wish to make such a request by emailing enquiries@gresham.ac.uk

Your rights

You have a number of rights under data protection laws. To find out more about those rights, to make a complaint, to request that we no longer use your data, please refer to our Privacy Policy.

Last updated: September 2022